

Social Ski Day & Demo Day – Sunday, March 13, 2011

We had a good turnout for our annual Social Ski & Demo Day on Sunday, March 13th at the Diamond Peak Ski Resort in Incline Village. They gave us discounted lift tickets for only $25.

We not only had fun skiing on our own skis and socializing but also trying new skis and learning about the new equipment at the same time. Diamond Peak was not crowded, so we were able to demo a lot of different new skis. Club members met up at the Demo Tents throughout the day, and compared opinions of the new skis they liked or didn't like. We started when the lifts opened at 9 Am and stopped at 3 PM when the demo ended. However, there was a pronounced trickle in effect in the morning due to our loosing an hour of sleep to the change to daylight savings time. Village Ski Loft (775 831-3537) has been the club's host for this event for years and there has never been any pressure for us to buy anything. That said, they do have one of the best deals going for ordering new skis for next year. Anyone in the club can order new skis on their deal through them by April 15, 2011. The weather was overcast so we did not have lunch on the outside deck this year. At the end of the day we did a little socializing in the main lodge's upstairs bar and then a group went to the Lodge at Galena for drinks and dinner and a lively discussion of the new equipment.
